FOUR YOUTHS ADMIT PART
IN 17 HOLDUPS
SINCE AUG. 16

Prisoners Identify Themselves as Gang Which Cruised About City in Red Automobile on That Night and Took Part in Five Robberies.

HAVE STOLEN FOUR
AUTOS, THEY SAY

Arrests Made When Ferguson Youth Tried to Sell Watches—Robbers Describe Crimes and Tell How Well They Treated Victims.

Four youths, ranging in age from 15 to 22 years, were arrested at their homes last night and have admitted that since Aug. 4 they have participated in 17 holdups in St. Louis and St. Louis County and have stolen four automobiles.

They identify themselves as the robbers who on the night of Aug. 14 cruised about the city in a red automobile. The police count of robberies on that night is nine. The youths say they were the robbers in five.

The prisoners are William Holtsclaw, 22 years old, son of John Holtsclaw, a contractor, of 53 Florissant road, Ferguson; his brother-in-law, Thomas Frederickson, 19, who lives with his wife and 10-month-old baby at 905 Morrison avenue; Herman Staudler, 20, of 3716 Illinois avenue, and Albert Mayer, 18, of 1824 Magnolia avenue.

Three of the four are former service men. Holtsclaw served in France with the 158th (St. Louis) Infantry. Staudler served with an artillery unit. Frederickson was discharged after his enlistment when he was a son of Mrs. Elizabeth Weiser of 3411 South Broadway, who was murdered in her home on June 2, 1919.

The arrests came about through a report to police that a Ferguson youth, described as a "two-gun kid," from his practice of carrying two revolvers, had said that he had some watches for sale. This was Holtsclaw, who, when arrested, told his enumeration of holdups in which he had participated and named his companions, who were found at intervals during the night. Each admitted participation in the robberies.

Decided to Make Easy Money. Holtsclaw related how he and his companions came to embark upon their career as robbers. "I was working as a carpenter at 45 cents an hour," he said. "The work was not steady. I was behind in my board to my mother. Staudler was a freight handler at $25 a week. I was discouraged with my own employment and one night I said to Staudler: 'Listen, you can't make enough to live on. Let's get some easy money.' Staudler had three revolvers. He lent them to our enterprise. Frederickson wasn't making much and he came in. Mayer was a friend of Staudler's. Frederickson participated in nine holdups and then quit. The rest of us were in all of them.

"The first night we took a street car, went out to the vicinity of the Wagner Electric plant and held up two men, getting two watches and some letters."

Robbed Theater Manager. The last robbery for which Holtsclaw accepts responsibility was the last Sunday night of Fred Wehrenberg of 3215 Indiana avenue, manager of the Cherokee Theater, who was carrying the Saturday and Sunday night receipts of the theater to his home. He tossed a bag containing the money over a fence, but one of the robbers remarked: "Register disappointment," and got the money. Wehrenberg reported that the amount of money taken was $232.

"It was only $132," Holtsclaw declared. "Mayer and I divided it two ways. Staudler knew an employer in the theater and from him learned of Wehrenberg's custom of

WOMAN ARRESTED TWICE IN DAY FOR TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

Fined $35 for Speeding on Lindell Boulevard and $5 for Failing to Stop Behind Street Car.

Mrs. Dorothy Fillo of 6310 Pershing avenue was arrested twice yesterday for violation of traffic ordinances and was fined a total of $40 in the two divisions of the Police Court today.

She was arrested at 1 p. m. by a policeman who told Judge Ittner that she had driven west on Lindell boulevard, from De Balve avenue to Skinker road, at 40 miles an hour. She was fined $35.

A short time later, before Judge Ittner, she was fined $5 for failing to stop behind a street car. Driving north on Union boulevard, behind a Union street car, about 6 p. m., she failed to stop at Page boulevard when the car stopped.

LEAPS FROM CAR TO WAGON AND STOPS RUNAWAY HORSES

Conductor of Grand Car Performs Feat in Street Crossed With Traffic.

H. E. Vincent, 3837 Kosuth avenue, conductor of a Grand avenue car, stopped a runaway team of the city Forestry Department by leaping from the step of his car to the swaying wagon as it passed the car at Grand and Lafayette avenues at 5:30 p. m.

The car, southbound, passed the team before coming to the street intersection and Vincent opened the door to jump as the wagon passed. The street was crowded with traffic at the time. He caught the rear of the wagon, swung himself on, and climbed to the front, where he held the reins. The driver of the team arrived ten minutes later.

Scott arrested her on a charge of disturbing the peace. In municipal court this morning Judge Kennedy dismissed the case. "If women may vote, why shouldn't they chew?" inquired the Judge.

HUNDREDS SAID TO HAVE BEEN KILLED
BY QUAKE IN ITALY

Many Populous Towns in Stricken Area Extending Over 100 Miles Almost Totally Destroyed.

FIVIZZANO, CITY OF 17,000 WIPED OUT

Entire Postoffice Staff Buried Under Ruins of Building—King Goes to Visit Suffering Districts.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Sept. 8.—Messages from the region affected by Tuesday's earthquake in Italy say the damage was heavier than at first believed, and that the number of dead and injured discovered is increasing hourly, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome today. The Epezia district was especially hard hit. The towns of Quercia, Molassa and Tarasco were wiped out. Apparently not a single town escaped damage. Everywhere the population is camping in the open.

By the Associated Press. ROME, Sept. 8.—Several hundred persons lost their lives in the district north of Florence which was severely shaken by an earthquake yesterday morning. As reports from the stricken region come in over faltering telegraph and telephone lines, the extent of the disaster seems to be growing and the damage done much more serious than was at first believed.

The territory violently disturbed seems to be lozenge-shaped, with Florence at the southern apex and Molassa at the northern apex. It extends along upwards of 100 miles. In this district there are many populous towns, and no tidings have as yet been received from many of them. There is every indication that the shock was a severe one, and reports from cities in the earthquake zone show that buildings crumbled beneath the strain of the convulsion.

At Fivizzano, a town of 15,000 inhabitants near Carrara, hundreds were killed and many were injured, almost every building was damaged. The street was completely destroyed. Among the collapsed structures is the postoffice, in the ruins of which is the entire staff. Sollara, in the province of Massa Marittima, and Monti, nearby, were partially destroyed. Rivesano, Forni and Montignoro are reported in ruins, while in Marina and Carrara many structures have collapsed. At Viareggio the Church of St. Paul was destroyed and at Castel Franco di Sotto the ceiling of a church was shattered.

Panic prevails at Lucca as a result of the calamity, and from Giviana and Livestrate come reports of lives being lost. At Villafranca, in Lunigiana, an entire family was buried in the ruins of their home. The village of Vigorana was entirely destroyed. Serious damage was done in the Frignano district, where houses collapsed, and at Frassinoro, where a number of houses were destroyed. At Sant'Andrea, where houses were badly damaged but the number of victims has not been ascertained.

Town of 9000 Destroyed. Barco, a town of 9000 inhabitants, was almost totally destroyed as also was Fornaci, nearby. Sixty-five dead have already been identified and laid out in the small picturesque cemetery, which was thrown open by the earthquake. Barco was the birthplace of the poet Giovanni Pascoli.

One of the gravest difficulties encountered is the fact that the earthquake caused an enormous displacement of earth and rocks which obstructed the roads, destroyed the wires and all other means of communication. The Red Cross has dispatched hundreds of beds, many tents, medicines and physicians to the scene. Other benevolent associations are contributing to the work of rescue, as are private individuals, who have placed automobiles and camions at the disposal of the authorities for transportation of the wounded and the distribution of supplies. The supplies are urgently needed, since 700,000 persons are camping in the open air.

Fivizzano Was Flourishing Town. Fivizzano, where the damage to buildings was especially heavy, was a flourishing town, perched on the slopes of the Apennines. It possessed an old town hall and also the ruins of a castle. The whole scene now is one of ruins, numbers of the inhabitants buried under the debris. Groans and cries were heard on all sides as rescuers worked feverishly to extricate the injured from among the bodies of the dead.

SALES OF CEMENT,
SAND AND GRAVEL
TO BE RESUMED

Manager of St. Louis Material Dealers' Association Announces 37 Warehouses Will Open Tomorrow.

HAVE BEEN CLOSED
SINCE AUGUST 4

Strike of 110 Teamsters, Which Began Then, Not Yet Settled—Will Try to Make Deliveries.

Sale of cement, lime and sand, which was discontinued Aug. 4 by the 37 members of the St. Louis Material Dealers' Association on account of a strike of 110 teamsters, will be resumed tomorrow.

As is known, the warehouses of the companies belonging to the association have been closed 36 days, and in that time the city, contractors and individuals requiring cement, lime and sand in the construction of concrete work, have been unable to get any from members of the association, although they volunteered to make their own deliveries. Union dealers asserted that dealers had adopted this action as a retaliatory measure directed against the public in order to force a settlement with the teamsters without having to recognize the union.

Statement for Dealers. The following statement was issued today by H. C. Thompson, manager of the Material Dealers' Association: "It is the intention of the various companies belonging to the association to resume operation Thursday."

Thompson refused to amplify the statement, and said that he was at this time by the association. It was learned from individual material dealers, however, that the warehouses would be opened tomorrow and that efforts will be made to make deliveries. Contractors wishing to make their own deliveries will be permitted to do so, but companies for jobs will be given employment. No discrimination will be shown between those affiliated with the union, it was said.

Officials of the teamsters' union said that they had not been informed by the association or any of its members of the intention of the dealers to resume business, and that they were not prepared at this time to say just what the attitude of the members of the union would be. They said that the dealers' action was a contract would be continued.

Manager Thompson, to whom reporters were referred by individual dealers, said that the teamsters have shut us down and we are going to stay shut down."

State of Stone Held Up. Following the action of the material dealers, 10 companies operating stone quarries refused to sell crushed rock or building stone. This was denied by Gottlieb Eyermer, head of the quarriesmen division of the Municipal Contractors' Association, but several contractors said that they were unable to get rock or stone at the quarries, although they had offered to make their own deliveries.

Mayor Kiel, in a statement to the Post-Dispatch, last Saturday, said that the situation due to the action of the material dealers has reached a critical stage, and that all building work in the city would cease in less than one month if the situation was not relieved.

It is estimated that more than $1,000,000 worth of building work has been halted in the city and suburbs as a result of the dealers' refusal to sell cement, and that at least 3000 building workmen were thrown out of work.

Teamsters' Demands. A majority of the members of the Material Dealers' Association were paying the union rate of wages to their teamsters, but the question of unionism came up when representatives of the union asked the dealers to sign a contract with the union, agreeing to recognize the organization and grant them union working conditions and hours. The employers refused to do this. They said that they feared that if they gave in to the union the teamsters, in time, would refuse to haul materials that were not union made or that were going to construction work where non-union men were employed.

NAVY TO GET NO MORE WHISKY FOR MEDICINAL USE

Order States When Present Supply is Exhausted Further Purchases Are Prohibited.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Spiritous liquors received their final and complete divorce from the United States navy in an order made public today by the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery prohibiting their issue to naval vessels for medicinal purposes. Not only are medical supply depots prohibited from issuing whisky except to hospitals, but when the present supplies have become exhausted, the order states, "no further purchases will be made, and whisky will be stricken from the supply table of the medical department of the navy. It is estimated that the supply on hand will last not more than two or three weeks.

"When whisky is no longer available," the order says, "and a medical officer deems alcoholic stimulation absolutely essential for the preservation of human life, the ethyl alcohol obtainable from supply officers may be prescribed. This alcohol conforms in all respects with the requirements of the United States pharmacopoeia."

The order directs that no further purchase from any source be made of "distilled spirits of wine or alcohol preparations which are designated by the Bureau of Internal Revenue as being fit for intoxicating beverage purposes."

TREASURY TO TIGHTEN RULES
GOVERNING SALE OF STILLS

Further Effort by Government to End Illicit Distilling is to Be Made.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—In an effort to end illicit distilling of intoxicating liquor, the Treasury department today announced that it has decided today to tighten regulations around the sale of stills and add another check to its means of tracing down their users.

Manufacturers of stills are required by the new regulation to report all sales, the names of purchasers and locations where the stills are to be set up. Names of manufacturers must be securely attached to the articles sold and sworn statements must be obtained from purchasers as to the purposes for which stills are to be used.

Details of the still's specifications are demanded, as well as the production capacity on a per-day basis. To avoid illicit distilling, the regulation requires that the application for a permit for each still be accompanied by a sworn statement of the purchaser, who must be a resident of the locality where the still is to be used.

He was registered at the hospital as a miner of San Francisco and Alaska.

Rain fell heavily for an hour in St. Louis this forenoon and for 15 minutes excessively. The precipitation up to noon was 1.64 inches, and half of this fell in the 15 minutes, beginning at about 11 o'clock.

The deluge resulted from a storm center over St. Louis. It was not local, but extended over all this part of the country. The storm center was moving eastward, however, and while there may be some showers this evening, it is expected that tomorrow will be clear.

NEGROES SEEKING TO PURCHASE PROPERTY

Salem German Methodist Episcopal Edifice at Pendleton Avenue and Page Boulevard is on the Market.

Members of the Home Protective Association, composed of property owners on Page boulevard and Evans avenue, between Vandeventer and Taylor avenues, in their efforts to keep negro residents out of the neighborhood, have offered to contribute $10,000 to the purchase price of the property.

The offer of the donation was agreed upon at a recent meeting of the association in the school hall of St. Ann's Catholic Church, Whittier street, between Page boulevard and the parish of the Rev. Father T. J. Walsh, has taken an active part in the movement to keep negroes from the parish. A. A. Macmahon, 4141 Page boulevard, president of the association, presided at the meeting.

The meeting was called when it was learned that representatives of several negro congregations were negotiating for the purchase of the Salem Church building. William Hafner, 1800 Whittier street, a member of the First Galician Congregation, informed the association that his people had offered $55,000 for the property, but that the offer had been rejected.

The Rev. W. F. Iler, 4311 Page boulevard, pastor of Salem Church, told a Post-Dispatch reporter that the property, including the church and pastor's residence, had been appraised at $75,000. He said that several negro congregations had offered more than $55,000 for the property.

Plans have been under way for several months for the consolidation of Salem Church and the Zion German Methodist Episcopal Church at Grano and Carter avenues. It is the purpose of the two congregations to erect a new church building on King's highway or Union boulevard, north of Easton avenue.

To Pay $1 Per Foot. Macmahon said that a sufficient number of the members of the association had offered to bear an assessment of $1 per lineal foot of their property to raise a fund of at least $10,000 and that they were willing to donate the money to the First Galician Congregation or any other white congregation desiring to buy Salem Church, in order to prevent negroes from getting the property. He related that the association for two years has been fighting to keep negroes from the neighborhood and pointed out that many negroes now reside to the north and to the south.

The airplane was scheduled to make its first stop at Cleveland, Ohio, or stations chosen were Chicago, Omaha, Neb.; Cheyenne, Wyo.; Salt Lake City, Reno, Nev., and finally, San Francisco.

The trip is expected to be completed in three days, arriving at San Francisco 42 hours ahead of the time regularly required for mail trains.

The flight mapped out is 2551 miles in length. The establishment of the service places at the disposal of the United States military forces what is probably the greatest system of regularly maintained landing fields and facilities in the world, according to the Postoffice Department.

Two Cities Still Without Papers. LONDON, Sept. 8.—Liverpool and Manchester were still without newspapers today, as a result of the strike of compositors begun Aug. 30 for more pay. In Liverpool, however, two publications were issued last evening by the photographic process, containing 5000 words of the day's news. The newspapers of Manchester have caused 2000 summonses to be issued against the strikers for breach of contract.

Senator Reed called the witness' attention to the quota sheet submitted last week by Fred W. Upham, Republican national treasurer, which fixed the amount for the entire State of Ohio at $400,000.

Blossom testified that A. A. Protzman, a paid agent of the National Committee, was present when the Cleveland quota was announced as $400,000, and that Protzman helped direct the raising of the money.

Forty teams of six men each were organized for the drive, Blossom said, 20 under his direction and 20 under C. T. Brooks.

A list of 3000 names of prospects was provided by W. R. Woodford, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of Cuyahoga county, and from this list each team captain selected the names of 50 to 75 men to be canvassed by his team. Some of the cards in the list as furnished by Woodford were marked with the amount the prospect should give, Blossom said.

Red Cross Plan Followed. Blossom, Director of Public Welfare of the city of Cleveland, testified that Woodford asked him last July to head a squad of 30 teams and that the squad was organized last week. A luncheon was held each day and the general plan of the Red Cross and Liberty loan drives followed. Congressmen S. D. Fess of Ohio, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, was a speaker at one of the luncheons.

"How were these 3000 'prospects' picked?" asked Senator Reed. "They were chosen because they were known Republicans," Blossom explained, "and because it was thought they were able to contribute to the fund."

"There are surely more than 1000 Republicans in Cuyahoga County. Why were these 3000 chosen?" "Mr. Woodford made up the list. I had nothing to do with it."

"You were to get $400,000 in Cuyahoga County alone, although his quota sheet introduced last week by the Republican National Committee shows the goal for the entire State of Ohio was only $400,000?" Senator Reed continued. "Yes, sir, that was my understanding."

Work Still Going On. Blossom said that when he left Cleveland Labor day, $74,000 had been pledged and that the work was still going on, with Protzman trying to reach the goal of $400,000.

Sensor Reed then took the witness through form 101, the campaign plan, which Republican witnesses have said was never issued, and which Blossom said he had never seen. At almost every step in order.

Three Thousand Prospects Canvassed After Daily Luncheons—Georgia Witness Tells of Attempt to Go Above Quota.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—First evidence supporting Gov. Cox's charge that large quotas were assigned to the principal cities by the Republican Campaign Fund Committee was introduced in the Senate committee investigation today when Dudley S. Blossom, who is helping to raise Cleveland's quota, testified Gov. Cox's figures of $400,000 for that city were correct.

Senator Reed called the witness' attention to the quota sheet submitted last week by Fred W. Upham, Republican national treasurer, which fixed the amount for the entire State of Ohio at $400,000.

MACSWINEY WEAK; LLOYD GEORGE IS BACK IN LONDON

Premier Arrives Unexpectedly From Lucerne, After Making Trip Without Touching Paris.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 8.—Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, entered today on the twenty-seventh day of his hunger strike, which began on Aug. 12, following his arrest by British authorities at Cork. Reports from Brixton Prison, where he is incarcerated, stated he was a little brighter this morning, but much weaker and more nearly exhausted. It was added he had passed a fairly good night. Premier Lloyd George reached London unexpectedly last night from Lucerne. He traveled direct instead of through Paris as planned.

Guarantees that attacks upon police in Ireland must cease are necessary before the Government can consider the liberation of Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, and other hunger strikers, says the London Times this morning in discussing Premier Lloyd George's views on the subject, as outlined in his interview at Viège, Switzerland, yesterday.

Bulletin on Condition.
A bulletin issued at noon by the Irish Self-Determination League with regard to the Mayor's condition said:

"The Lord Mayor suddenly got much weaker. The doctors are very anxious, and have forbidden his relatives to converse with him." Replying to the request of a newspaper for an expression of opinion on the reported offer with regard to the release of Lord Mayor MacSwiney and the other hunger striking Irishmen, Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Féin, telegraphed as follows:

"It is amazing that your Government, having tortured Irish patriots in your prisons for weeks, when they are at the point of death, offers to release them if they proclaim themselves murderers and suggests that it will kill them if they do not. You English are, indeed, as Tolstoy said, the most barbarous of all peoples pretending civilization."

Dublin Physician Quits Privy Council as Protest.
By the Associated Press.
BELFAST, Sept. 8.—Dr. Michael Francis Cox, the noted Dublin physician, has resigned from the Irish Privy Council as a protest against the Government's policy in Ireland.

DEAN DAVIS PROTESTS AGAINST APPEAL FOR MACSWINEY

The Rev. Carroll M. Davis, dean of Christ Church Cathedral, has sent to Mayor Kiel a letter protesting against the Mayor's action in cabling to Lloyd George, in the name of the people of St. Louis, a request for the release of Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork. The dean's letter follows:

"I cannot refrain from protesting against your action as Mayor of St. Louis in cabling the Hon. Lloyd George as announced in the press. You say that you have done this 'on behalf of the liberty-loving citizens of St. Louis.' I beg to say that you have made a mistake in your assumption and that there are many 'liberty-loving citizens of St. Louis' who heartily disagree with your actions."

"While I have sympathized with the Irish cause for many years, the Irish propaganda abroad in our country today I believe to be harmful to the cause of Ireland and disloyal to our national life. I protest against having any of our public officials made use of by such propaganda."

Mayor Kiel in his message, sent Monday, said that MacSwiney was dying "to vindicate the purpose for which America fought in the war—the freedom of his countrymen and humanity." He said he sent it at the request of Irish sympathizers.

Edwin Reinhard sued for divorce. Humphrey street, today filed a divorce suit against Edwin Reinhard, Powder Co. The petition says they were married Jan. 12, 1918, and Mrs. Florence Reinhard, 3428A

MAN SUSPECTED OF FIGURING IN BEARS' RELEASE EXONERATED

Former Attendant at Zoo Shown to Have Had no Connection With Escape of Animals.

Louis Spero, of 3502 Westminster place, was discharged in the Court of Criminal Correction today when he was called on the common-law bond which he gave Aug. 23 after being arrested on suspicion that he knew something of the release of two bears from their cage at the Forest Park Zoo, Aug. 27.

No formal charge was ever made against Spero. George Vierheller, secretary of the Zoo Board of Control, today said a thorough investigation had shown that Spero had no connection with the release of the bears. He formerly was an attendant at the Zoo.

ROBBERS PAY RETURN VISIT

The car barn robbers who visited the Maryville barns of the East St. Louis & Suburban line early yesterday morning were the same men who robbed the place several months ago. They found the same employees, William Brum and Christ Menzies, on duty.

"We rather liked the newspaper accounts of our last visit," one of them said to the workmen when they entered "so we think we'll put the same thing again. Go and get us a sledge hammer."

This being provided, they again battered in the lid of the box in which the conductors deposit their cash and the trip reports, and carried away $250. The other time $350 was taken.

Matewan Trials Continued.

By the Associated Press. WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Sept. 8.—On motion of the State and over objection of counsel for the defense, Judge Damron yesterday ordered the trials of 24 men, indicted for murder in connection with the killing of ten persons at Matewan last May, continued until January 19, 1921. Attorneys for the State said two material witnesses were absent.

WISCONSIN LEADS STATES IN ADOPTION OF UNIFORM LAWS

21 of 30 Acts Submitted Are Enacted—Massachusetts Ranks Second With 12.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Wisconsin leads the states in the number of uniform acts that it has adopted as put forth by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, according to a summary by E. A. Gilmore of Madison, Wis., secretary of the conference.

Of 30 uniform acts submitted by the commissioners, Wisconsin has adopted 21. Massachusetts stands next with 12.

Wisconsin is also the first State to enact all the legislation relative to marriage and divorce drawn by the commissioners.

The uniform law which has been most favored is the negotiable instruments act. This has been adopted in all jurisdictions except Georgia and Porto Rico.

Two proposed uniform acts have not as yet been adopted by any state. They are the table of weights and measures and the insurance policies act.

More legislation dealing with marriage and divorce has been proposed than on any other subject. Action by states on these acts follows: Mandatory divorce act adopted by none; divorce procedure act, adopted by Delaware; marriage license act, by Massachusetts; marriage evasion act, by Illinois, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Vermont; annulment of marriage and divorce act, by Delaware and New Jersey.

A uniform family desertion act has been adopted by Alabama, Kansas, North Dakota, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

The flag law submitted by the conference has been enacted in Arizona, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Washington and Wisconsin.

300 AT MASS MEETING FOR OGLESBY IN EAST ST. LOUIS

About 300 men and women last night attended a mass meeting in the East St. Louis City Hall auditorium in the interest of Lieutenant-Governor John G. Oglesby, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. The principal address was delivered by Cornelius J. Doyle, of Springfield, former Secretary of State.

The Republican organization of East St. Louis is working in the interest of Len Small for the nomination for Governor, but no meeting in his behalf has been held. The primaries are to be held Sept. 15.

Two weeks ago when Edward N. Woodruff, Mayor of Peoria, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, appeared in East St. Louis to speak, he found no arrangements had been made. Mayor Stephens, a Democrat, chaperoned Woodruff about the city, introducing him to Republicans. During the evening he delivered an address from an auto at Collinsville and Missouri avenues, being introduced by Mayor Stephens.

HARDING SUGGESTS WAYS TO BUILD UP FARMING INDUSTRY

tion costs, both at home and abroad, with a view to reducing the frequency of abnormal fluctuations here. Stabilization will contribute to everybody's confidence. Farmers have complained bitterly of the frequent and violent fluctuations in prices of farm products, and especially in prices of livestock. They do not find fluctuations—such fluctuations—in the products of other industries. In a general way prices of farm products must go up or down according to whether there is a plentiful crop or a short one. The farmer's raw materials are the fertility of the soil, the sunshine and the rain; and the size of his crops is measured by the supply of these raw materials and the skill with which he makes use of them. He cannot control his production and adjust it to the demand as can the manufacturer. But he can see no good reason why the prices of his products should fluctuate so violently from week to week, and sometimes from day to day. We must get a better understanding of the factors which influence agricultural prices, with a view to avoiding these violent fluctuations and bring about average prices, which shall bear a reasonable relation to the cost of production. We do not offer any quick remedies in this matter, but we do pledge ourselves to make a thorough study of the disease, find out what causes it, and then apply the remedy which promises a cure.

Prices for Farm Products.

"4. We promise to put an end to unnecessary price-fixing of farm products and to ill-considered efforts arbitrarily to reduce farm product prices. In times of national crises, when there is a known scarcity of any necessary product, price control for the purpose of making a fair distribution of the stores on hand may be both necessary and wise. But we know that there can be no repeal of natural laws—the eternal fundamentals. The history of the last 3000 years records the folly of such efforts.

"Government drives against food prices such as we have experienced during the past two years are equally vain and useless. The ostensible purpose of such drives is to reduce the price the consumer pays for food. The actual result is unjustly to depress for a time the price the farmer receives for his grains and livestock, but with no appreciable reduction in the price the consumer pays. Such drives simply give the speculator and the profiteer additional opportunities to add to their exactions, while they add to the uncertainty and discouragement under which the farmer is laboring during this period of readjustment.

Evil of Increasing Tenancy.

"5. We favor the administration of the farm loan act so as to help men who farm to secure farms of their own and to give them long-time credits needed to practice the best methods of diversified farming. We also favor the authorization of associations to provide the necessary machinery to furnish personal credit to the man, whether land owner or tenant, who is hampered for lack of working capital. The highest type of rural civilization is that in which the land is farmed by the men who own it. Unfortunately, as land increases in value, tenancy also increases.

Railroad Service and Tariff.

"6. We do not longer recognize the right to speculative profit in the operation of our transportation systems, but we are pledged to restore them to the highest state of efficiency as quickly as possible. Agriculture has suffered more severely than any other industry through the inefficient railroad service of the last two years.

"7. We are pledged to the revision of the tariff as soon as conditions shall make it necessary for the preservation of the home market for American labor, American agriculture and American industry. For a permanent good fortune all must have a common interest. If we are to build up a self-sustaining agriculture here at home, the farmer must be protected from unfair competition from those countries where agriculture is still being exploited and where the standards of living on the farm are much lower than here. We have asked for higher American standards, let us maintain them.

"America and Its Triumphs.
"We need to contemplate the miracle of America in that understanding which enables us to appreciate that which made us what we are, and then resolve to cling fast to all that is good and go confidently on to great things.

"We need to recall that America and its triumphs are not a gift to the world through paralyzing internationality, but the glories of the republic are the fruits of our own nationality and its inspirations—of freedom, of opportunity, of equal rights under the constitution, of Columbia offering the cup of American liberty to men thirsting to achieve and beckoning men to drink of the waters of our political life and be rewarded as they merit it. I think that the paths which brought us to the point where the world leadership might have been ours—as it might have been in 1919—in the first century and a third of national life ought to be the way to the answered aspirations of this great republic. I like to turn for reflection sometimes, because I get therein the needed assurance for the onward march of the morrow. Today we have contemplated American farming in the broadest possible way, have been reminded where we have been remiss; tomorrow we want to greet the farmers of America in the freedom and fullness of farming productivity, impelled by the assurance that they are to have their full part in the rewards of righteous American activity."

From the fairgrounds Separator Harding will head an automobile parade to Minneapolis, where he will be the guest of the Lincoln Republican Club at a public reception. Returning to St. Paul at 5 p. m., he and Mrs. Harding will dine at the home of Ben F. Meyers, Mrs. Harding's cousin. Another public reception will be held tonight at the State Capitol here. The building will be specially illuminated for the occasion and the Senator will shake hands with as many persons as possible.

He leaves late tonight or early tomorrow for Marion.

COUPLE RECONCILED 16TH TIME

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—To effect their sixteenth reconciliation, Judge Samuel H. Trude advised John and Frances Ebron to "both speak at the same time and walk out of the courtroom arm in arm," and continued their case for a week to test results. Judge Trude had advised Ebron to take his wife for an outing over Labor day, but he reported to the Judge today his wife wouldn't even speak to him when the left the court. "It was up to him to speak first," said Mrs. Ebron. With a marital record of two divorces, three marriages and 10 separations, the Ebrons accepted the Judge's advice and left the courtroom arm in arm.

What about the clothier who does the right thing?

YOU hear a lot about profiteering in clothing. Wherever it exists it can't be condemned too severely.

Something ought to be said, however, for the merchants who have been taking only a fair profit; merchants who have tried to help their customers meet high costs.

There are many such merchants.

They are meeting the situation fairly and squarely with nothing but good quality because they know it is economy.

When they couldn't get enough fine goods, they turned down sales rather than sell "cheap" stuff.

They cut their margins of profit in order to help relieve the strain of high prices.

They say to their customers, "Come back and get your money if you aren't satisfied."

We believe that the merchants who sell our clothes are doing everything they can to reduce costs for you. We think you ought to know it.

HARDING ENJOYS ADVENTURE OFF THE FRONT PORCH

Candidate "Meets Up" With the Folk on Way to St.
Paul and Managers Hope
He'll Get Out Often.

THINKING UP MORE
TRIPS FOR HIM

Leaders Find He Makes Good Impression on Road; State Fair Crowds Hard on His Sort of Speech Though.

By DAVID LAWRENCE,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 8.—Senator Harding off the front porch, mingling with the folks in the crowd, exchanging jests and telling stories, is as likable a personality as has ever leaned over the rail of a private car.

His trip from Marion was interrupted by two back-platform talks.
Perhaps they should be called conversations. They weren't speeches.
They were not about campaign issues, but about general things like the wonders of America and the opportunities of our country, about rural life, and boyhood reminis-cences awakened by the sight of rural folks—a sort of rustic anthology.
Anybody traveling from Marion to St. Paul with Senator Harding on this his first adventure off the front porch, couldn't but wonder why the Republican managers consented to Senator Harding's modest program of front porch speeches. These same managers are hoping that the effect of the journey on the Senator himself will be to persuade the nominees of the necessity of making more trips. He found himself fascinated by the experience. He didn't intend to make any speeches or talks en route. He had expressed himself against back-platforming, yet the appeal of the crowd was irresistible.
Greeting for Everybody.

And when Senator Harding comes out and shakes hands and manages to have a suitable greeting for everybody, whether the individual be the leader of a band or a farmer or a laborer or a war veteran, the sum total of his effort is as good as any campaigner's in recent years.

The Republican managers think this trip will settle the thing—that Harding will make more trips hereafter. Of course, the truth is, Senator Harding always was a good campaigner. In other years he has stumped the country for the Republican ticket and he knows how to handle crowds.

Fundamentally, the objection to a big campaign trip has been the necessity of making numerous speeches, and Senator Harding has been a firm believer in the idea of preparing carefully a few addresses that could be distributed to the newspapers in advance and examined deliberately in the editorial offices of the country. This trip shows that Harding can meet the folks and make a good impression and keep his campaign discussions for the larger meetings.
He will not talk extemporaneously on vital matters.

Keeps Out of Wrangles.

Meanwhile the Republican managers are thinking up schedules for Senator Harding to follow, and the plan, tentative though it is, seems to call for journeys east and west from Marion—not as far as the coast, perhaps, but westward. The Senator will surely go to New York candidates usually do toward the end of October. It wouldn't be wise for him to get to Chicago until the Republican primaries are over. In fact, in several states the national ticket is trying hard to avoid entanglement in factional fights within the party. It will be recalled that Hughes struck a snag in California in 1916 by entering that State before the primaries had settled the issue there.

By staying at home, thus far, Harding has kept free from entangling alliances. Big as the important month of October approaches, the pressure for speeches and trips is growing and many a Republican manager will whisper to you that Senator Harding will be absent quite frequently from the front porch hereafter.

Doesn't Like Outdoor Speaking.

Senator Harding didn't like the idea of talking from a grand stand to an outdoor crowd. The State fair, however, invited all the candidates.
Two days ago Gov. Cox spoke from the same stand. Candidates that came to see horse races and other sports at a state fair are usually content with a look at the celebrity and then they want the sports program to start. Gov. Cox ran into that sort of impatience at Milwaukee and also at the field games at Sheepshead Bay, New York, a fortnight ago.

Senator Harding's effort to read a long discourse on agricultural matters to a crowd from the State fair grand stand was a severe test on his speech away from the front porch at Marion. Indeed, were it not for the pleasant incidents along the route, he would have gone home with an inclination against further trips like this. He expressed his regret that the local committee didn't get a small hall for the occasion, but arrangements were entirely in the hands of the State Fair Board. The political organizations didn't take the Senator in hand until afternoon.
The Senator had mapped out his single address with the utmost care and naturally didn't relish the idea of reading it to an outdoor crowd, moving around impatiently, either because of inability to hear or special interest in other features of the program. Still, that's what always happens at state fairs.

COX ENTERS FAR WEST TODAY ON SPEAKING TOUR

Democratic Presidential Candidate Scheduled for Addresses at Havre and Great Falls, Mont.

By the Associated Press.
HAYRE, Mont., Sept. 8.—Gov. James M. Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, got his first glimpse of Montana and the far West today when he entered this State, on his Western campaign tour.

He left Minot, N. D., early today, and will speak this afternoon at Havre and tonight at Great Falls, Mont.

Big business was flayed and progressivism preached by Gov. Cox in a tour yesterday of 200 miles in North Dakota, close to the Canadian boundary.

Ten Speeches Yesterday.
These issues, together with the League of Nations, were emphasized to eight audiences comprising principally farmers, laborers, small business men, women and children. Besides two regularly scheduled and extended speeches at Grand Forks and Minot, the candidate made talks in several cities from the rear platform of his train.

Big business is seeking his defeat, Gov. Cox declared, "contributing largely to the Republican funds."

Large interests, he asserted, are arrayed almost solidly against him and are "leagued with the Senate oligarchy."

To his audience at Minot last night and also to others en route, Gov. Cox recited former President Roosevelt's fight in 1912 against alleged "reactionary Republican leaders."

"He led the crusade against vested interests and political bosses who served them," said the Governor. "He called the roll and specified persons by name. He named Boss Barnes of New York, Penrose and Smoot as connecting links between crooked business and crooked politics."

"Same Old Crowd Back."

Referring to testimony before the Senate Campaign Fund investigating Committee of alleged subscription by large corporations and wealthy individuals to Barnes' Republican book, Gov. Cox continued:

"The same old crowd is back in the front lines. Barnes, who, in Roosevelt's mind was the Judas of the party, has been made its Saint Paul and has been designated to write the faith of the party for this campaign."

Reading the names of the Barnes book list, Gov. Cox added:

"Large sums were pledged to Mr. Barnes to instruct the electorate. That it was done with the knowledge and consent of Senator Harding, the candidate for these same interests is shown by his letter directed personally to Mr. Barnes. It is also commended by Boies Penrose, the Pennsylvania boss. This is of interest this year because the same voices have defied the voice of the primaries and nominated a member of the senatorial oligarchy, who did not receive a majority vote in a single State primary."

Radicalism Discussed.
The territory visited is the stage of sharp fighting between the Non-partisan League and its opponents, and "radicalism" was discussed by the candidate. Urging progress rather than reaction, he said:

"Wherever you have despotism you are going to have revolution. If you don't plow your corn you will have weeds. If you don't cultivate the process of government you are going to have radicalism. There are some people in this country who believe that when radicalism asserts itself they should lay the hand of force upon it, the hand of oppression. My creed is entirely different. It is to cultivate the principles and the practices of good government, and you won't have radicalism anywhere in the world."

During his trip the Governor received less applause than usual. Some of his rear-platform speeches were organized hurriedly in several towns by scattering handbills. At one point, I. W. W. literature was thrown on the Governor's train. The most applause followed statements for peace and disarmament by members of the League of Nations. He repeated statements that the league would bring world peace and stability and that disarmament would reduce taxes.

Millions of Smiles

Now show beautiful teeth—this is why

All statements approved by authorities

Look at people's teeth when they smile. Many teeth are dingy and discolored. All one's attractions are marred by them.

Other teeth now glisten. For millions of people now brush teeth in a new way. Twice a day they fight the film which dulls them.

Your teeth are coated more or less if you brush them in old ways. See the difference when you brush them in the new way for a while. Ask for this ten-day test.

You must combat film

Brushing does not clean teeth if it leaves the film. It removes some debris, but it does not end the teeth's great enemy.

Millions find that well-brushed teeth still discolor and decay. Tooth troubles have been constantly increasing. Now modern dental science finds the reason in a film.

New film is viscous. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Then, between your dental cleanings, it may do a ceaseless damage.

The ordinary tooth paste does not end film. A soapy tooth paste makes it more viscous. So brushing teeth in old ways has left much film intact. Its daily removal has in late years been a major dental problem.

How film ruins teeth

It is this film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film, and very few escape them.

PAT OFF
REG. U. S.
The New-Day Dentifrice

A scientific film combatant, acting in new ways. Approved by the highest authorities and advised by leading dentists everywhere. Druggists supply the large tubes.

Five quick effects

Pepsodent brings five desired effects with every application. Some are at once apparent, and all soon show their benefits to teeth.

One ingredient is pepsin. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to digest starch deposits that cling. Another instant result is multiplied alkalinity of the saliva to neutralize mouth acids.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

Thus with every application Pepsodent combats the teeth's great enemies in new and efficient ways. Both in Europe and America it is fast bringing a new era in teeth cleaning.

The way to know it is to try it. The first application reveals some new effects. A few-day test is most convincing. See these effects, read the reasons for them, and judge this new method for yourself. If it brings you whiter, safer, cleaner teeth, tell others about it. There are few things more important.

Watch the change in a week

Send this coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears. These effects mean much to you. Cut out the coupon now.

FREE

A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent. Send coupon. Make this simple, pleasant home test. See for yourself the results.

Film makes teeth dim and dingy

You may not realize it, but remove the film and see how teeth look then.

Compare your teeth now with the teeth you see after this ten-day test. It will be a revelation.

Every woman owes this to herself.

Few children escape

Children's teeth seem most susceptible to film-caused attacks. Very few young folks escape them. Dentists advise the use of Pepsodent from the day the first tooth appears.

Old methods have proved inadequate. See what the new way does. Right tooth protection in early years means much in years to come.

Men who smoke will also see conspicuous results. Their teeth are often much discolored, for tobacco stains the film.

FLYNN NAMED BY 84 VOTES AS MAYOR OF UNIVERSITY CITY

Insurance Man Defeats Cast-len for Unexpired Term of Late August Heman in Close Election.

Warren C. Flynn of 421 Westgate avenue, manager of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., was elected Mayor of University City yesterday by 84 votes over Harry W. Castlen, former city attorney and city clerk of University City. A total of 361 votes were cast, of which it is estimated probably half were those of women. Flynn received 1567 votes and Castlen 1483. The name of Conrad Budke, City Treasurer, was written in on one ballot.

Castlen accepted the result indicated by the face of the returns and early last night went to Flynn's headquarters at 3670 Delmar boulevard, congratulated Flynn and pledged his support.

The campaign had become very spirited in its closing days, and although the first election in University City in which women had voted, and the first mayoralty election in Missouri in which women had had a voice, women took almost as active a part as men.

Women speakers had addressed nearly every meeting held by either side, women drove automobiles in which tardy voters were taken to the polls, women workers just outside the voting booths urged the merits of the rival candidates and women voted early and in considerable numbers. There were women waiting for the voting booths to open in each of the four precincts before election officials arrived, and more than 200 women had voted before 8:30 a. m.

While the rivalry between the opposing camps was spirited, no clash of any sort was reported. The term to be served by Flynn is the unexpired term of Mayor August Heman, who died July 3 and which will expire next April. The office pays $600 a year.

City Clerk E. B. Colby said today that there is no way to determine exactly how many women voted because many of them, instead of giving their full names, adopted the masculine habit of giving only initials, so that in checking over tally sheets it is impossible to tell the names of women from those of men. He estimated, however, that 60 per cent of the votes were cast by women. He said that the vote yesterday was nearly four times as large as any previously cast in University City.

LIEUT.-COL. ROOSEVELT JUMPS FROM RUNAWAY AIRPLANE

JOPLIN, Mo., Sept. 8.—Lieutenant-Colonel Theodore Roosevelt had a narrow escape from death here at noon today while preparing for an airplane flight which was to take him to Vinita, Ok., and to Tulsa to fill speaking dates.

Col. Roosevelt was entering the front seat of the plane, a Curtiss Oriole, in which Bert Chandler, candidate for Congress from the First Oklahoma District, was sitting, while Paul Meng, the pilot, gave the propeller blade a twist. The throttle was too high and the big machine tore wildly down the field. Col. Roosevelt jumped from the fuselage and landed free of the rudders.

The plane struck a high place in the ground and upended, burying its nose in the ground. Chandler was severely shaken up and bruised but not seriously hurt. The pilot had made a flying leap for the rear fuselage and was hanging on with his hands, attempting to pull himself into the car when the machine turned over.

A few minutes later Roosevelt and Chandler entered a big Bristol plane from Tulsa and immediately flew for Vinita, where Raymond Robins preceded him this morning.

WOMAN, WITH SLAP, ROUTS TWO ARMED HOLDUP MEN

Mrs. Laura Metz, 2501 Dodder street, with a slap of her hand routed two armed highwaymen who attempted to hold her up in the grocery adjacent to a soft-drink saloon at that number at 6 o'clock last night.

She was alone in the grocery when the robbers entered and drew their revolvers. As they told her to throw up her hands, she said, she slapped the one closest to her. The action

MOONEY FACTION AGAIN IN POWER IN ST. LOUIS COUNTY

Democratic Leader Settles Differences With Chairman Thomas Wright of the Committee.

Friends of John Mooney, Democratic leader of St. Louis County, again control the Democratic County Committee, it was learned yesterday, by regaining the allegiance of Thomas Wright, chairman of the committee. Wright was elected chairman of the committee after he had bolted the Mooney camp through misunderstanding of a request from Mooney for Wright's proxy, that the seat might not be vacant, when Wright was unable to attend meetings. Mooney now has that proxy.

Members of the County Committee in a meeting yesterday at Clayton filled vacancies on their county ticket, as follows: County Judge Raymond A. Walsh of University City, for election as Judge in the First district; Joseph Kelton, Kirkwood, for County Surveyor; Dr. John O. Fickie, Eureka, for Coroner; James Harvey, Maplewood, for Constable Central township; John Dillon, Moberly, for Constable Carondelet township; Charles N. Couch, Eureka, for Constable Maramec township; John Behan, Florissant, for Constable St. Ferdinand township; Jacob G. Hawken, Kirkwood, for Justice of the Peace, Bonhomme township.

Harvey will oppose Constable Julius Schoenlein, defeated in the primary by Eugene Conroy, night Sheriff at Clayton, who was killed Aug. 30, Schoenlein being placed on the ticket by the Republican County Committee.

$5,000,000 REVENUE CASE LEFT TO DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Controversy Over Sale of Shipping Interests Grows Out of Alleged Attempt to Evade Income Tax.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Commissioner Williams of the Bureau of Internal Revenue has asked the Department of Justice to take jurisdiction of the case growing out of the recent seizure by revenue agents in New York of nearly $5,000,000 involved in a shipping transaction and on the profits of which it is alleged the interested parties sought to avoid payment of income taxes. The papers in the case are understood to carry with them no recommendation and the questions of violation of revenue laws, if any has been committed, was left entirely to officials of the Department of Justice.

The shipping deal which brought up the controversy was understood to have involved the sale of 4900 shares of Kerr Navigation Co. stock to the Hamburg-American Steamship Co. and the Harman interests at $195 a share. Just as the funds were being paid over to H. F. Kerr and A. E. Clegg, the Kerr company officials, in a New York bank, agents of the Internal Revenue Bureau stepped in and took charge of the money.

MAN SHOT SUNDAY DIES IN EAST ST. LOUIS HOSPITAL

Was One of Three Alleged Highwaymen Who Had Taken $100 From Man Who Fired Shot.

Harry Conderry, 25 years old, of 1709 Hall street, East St. Louis, died today at 3:45 a. m. at St. Mary's hospital, East St. Louis, from a bullet wound inflicted Sunday at 1 a. m. by Edward Duffin, 40, of 1227A Figgott avenue.

Duffin declared that Conderry and two companions had followed him three blocks to Second street and St. Clair avenue, from a saloon in which they had observed the bartender hand him $100, a diamond ring, and a revolver which he had left in the saloon for safekeeping. He declared that the three men had taken his money and that Conderry was endeavoring to pull the diamond ring from his finger when he fired. Conderry's two companions, Wesley Hitch and John Kane, are under arrest. Duffin also was arrested, but released on bond.

MRS. HUTCHINSON QUITS COMMITTEE

Mrs. G. Whittlesey Seated as Representative of G. O. P. of 13th Ward.

The fight in the Republican City Committee over the effort of Mrs. J. M. Hutchinson of 4031 Flad avenue to serve as Republican City Committeewoman from the Thirteenth ward over the protest of Dr. A. H. Meyer, Committeeman from that ward, ended last night with the resignation from the Women's Committee of Mrs. Hutchinson, who had been seated by the Men's Committee a week before, and with the seating of Mrs. G. Whittlesey of 4175 Flad, whom Meyer had certified to the committee as Committeewoman from the Thirteenth, and who had been rejected twice by the committee.

Mrs. Hutchinson, who had been a warm supporter of John Schmolli, was elected Committeewoman at a meeting called by herself the week of the August primary, after an effort by her to make peace with Meyer, the newly elected Committeeman, had failed. Mrs. Whittlesey was elected a few nights later at a meeting attended by 115 women, called by Meyer. Mrs. Hutchinson had the support in the City Committee of the Kiel-Schmolli-Goldstein members. Complications in Committee.

After the second rejection of Mrs. Whittlesey, Meyer announced he would carry the fight to the State Committee, and Committeeman Joseph B. Thomas of the Twenty-eighth ward, who sided with Meyer, withdrew from the Finance Committee of the City Committee. Other complications in the committee were in prospect.

A fight similar to that in the Thirteenth came up in the Seventeenth ward, where two negro women were elected Saturday night as Committeewomen, one of them at a meeting called by Committeeman Frank Slater, an ally of the Kiel-Schmolli-Goldstein group, and the other at a meeting called by Ernest Patillo, negro, who claims Slater was "counted in" as Committeeman, over him. This contest was to come up last night.

Mrs. Hutchinson did not decide to resign until after the Committee had assembled at 8 p. m., telephoning her decision to quit "for harmony's sake" to Committeeman Edward E. Butler, who conveyed it to the committee.

The resignation was accepted and Mrs. Whittlesey seated. Then the Seventeenth Ward contest was taken up and Mrs. Elizabeth Gamble of 3001 Lawton avenue, elected at Slater's meeting, was seated; Mrs. R. F. Perdeau of 2924 Washington avenue, elected at the Patillo meeting, being refused a hearing. She was accompanied to the meeting by Joseph B. McCoy, an attorney, who is conducting the fight of the negroes to oust Slater, and a number of friends. McCoy announced that he will carry his fight to the State Committee.

A number of other committeewomen elected at ward meetings held Saturday night were seated, as follows:

First Ward—Mrs. Henry Maune, 2018 East Fair avenue.
Ninth—Mrs. Emma Hummel, 2533 South Tenth street.
Eleventh—Mrs. E. Rohmann, 3119 A Cherokee street.
Twelfth—Mrs. Charles E. Gatterman, 410 Blow street.
Fourteenth—Mrs. Louis Maguire, 1812 Longfellow boulevard.
Twenty-seventh—Mrs. Regina M. Hoffman, 5860 A Easton avenue.
Twenty-eighth—Mrs. C. M. Swingle, 6142 Kensington avenue.

The other committeewomen had been seated previously.

SEVEN WEST END HOMES ROBBED IN ABSENCE OF FAMILIES

Entrance Gained in Each Case by Climbing Rear Porch and Forcing Open Window.

Seven homes in the West End were robbed while the families were absent last night. In each case the thief climbed a rear porch and forced open a window.

At the home of Mrs. Catherine B. Chew, 5380 Washington boulevard, the burglar damaged several articles of furniture by using a "jimmy" to pry open dresser drawers. He obtained nothing, apparently being in search of cash only. The other homes robbed were those of Morris Coppersmith, 5651 A Vernon avenue, $11; Erwin Pickel, 5854 Maple avenue, $6.45; Julius Littman, 5217 A Vernon avenue, $32; Albert Walzsch, 3701 Vernon avenue, $150; Mrs. C. R. Green, 5211 Enright avenue, jewelry valued at $570; and William Klauer, 2727 South King's Highway, jewelry valued at $7.00.

At the home of Mrs. Jesse Hjort, 2635 A Hickory street, a thief took $196. From the home of Mrs. Mary Abel, 325 A South Fourth street, $11 and jewelry valued at $600 was taken.

MILK $3.75 UNTIL SEPT. 15

Back Achy? Feel "All Worn Out?"

ARE you burdened from morning to night with a dull, nagging backache? Does any little exertion leave you "all worn out"? Does it seem sometimes as if you just can't keep going? You know then, there is something wrong. So why not find out what it is and correct it? Very likely, it's your kidneys. Modern life with its hurry and worry, and lack of rest and sleep, throws a heavy strain upon the kidneys. The kidneys slow up and that tired, depressed feeling and constant backache, are but natural results. You may have headaches and dizzy spells, too, and annoying kidney irregularities. Don't wait for dropsy, gravel, or dangerous Bright's disease. Determine to be well and stay well. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor.

These Are St. Louis Cases:

Easton Avenue John M. Bernhardt, proprietor fruit and produce store, 4054 Easton Ave., says: "I had a lameness in my back. Mornings when I got up I felt tired just as if I had not been in bed. My back felt heavy across my kidneys. A friend who had used Doan's Kidney Pills advised me to try them and I can honestly say they relieved the trouble and I have not been bothered since. I give Doan's the credit for my cure and gladly recommend them to my friends."	Bates Street Mrs. Chas. C. Pink, 4216 Bates St., says: "I know what Doan's Kidney Pills are and will do for anyone troubled with their kidneys or a lame back. Several years ago a cold settled in my kidneys and disordered them. When I was doing my housework, such as sweeping, I would have sharp pains catch me in my back just over my kidneys. After using a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills I was cured, so that I have not bothered since. I am in good health all the time and I can recommend Doan's to anyone that is bothered in any way with their kidneys."	Washington Avenue B. Miller, city fireman, 2000 Washington Ave., says: "About a year ago I was troubled with a lameness in my back. The pains in my back were so severe that when I would bend over I could hardly straighten up. I had read about Doan's Kidney Pills helping others so I got a box and they relieved me. I took about three boxes altogether and they fixed me up so that I have not had any trouble since. I can certainly say Doan's Kidney Pills are a good kidney remedy, after my trial with them."
Southwest Avenue Mrs. E. Schneider, 7210 Southwest Ave., says: "I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills after the cure they gave me when I was troubled with kidney complaint several years ago. At that time I was subject to dizzy spells and black specks floating before my eyes. I could hardly keep around on my feet doing my housework, and my back felt as if it were all gone. My kidneys acted irregularly and caused great annoyance. I used Doan's Kidney Pills on the advice of a friend, and three boxes from Schneider's drug store strengthened my back and kidneys. The kidney action was normal again and I was put in good health."	 Magnolia Avenue Achille Bordman, butcher, 2815 Magnolia Ave., says: "Overlifting and straining my back and kidneys was the cause of the disordered condition of my kidneys about two years ago. My back hurt me when I would try to lift or bend over. I had to put my hands on my back when I went to straighten up. A relative, who had used Doan's Kidney Pills, advised me to give them a trial. They helped me from the start and one box knocked the lameness out of my back. I have never been troubled since. Doan's do their work well."

There are 3 ways to clean the teeth

ONE is to scour food particles off with a gritty dentifrice. That is dangerous. It will injure the enamel of the teeth and irritate the gums, just as sand will scratch glass.

The second way is to use a highly medicated dentifrice supposed to dissolve the deposits on the teeth with a chemical. This, too, is dangerous, for any chemical strong enough to accomplish this will damage the delicate mouth membranes.

The third way is to brush the teeth with a dentifrice that has a fine chalk base which will polish the teeth but not scratch the enamel. It also has just enough medication to soothe the tissues of the mouth.

This is Colgate's—the safe and efficient dentifrice.

More dentists have recommended Colgate's as a safe and efficient dentifrice than any other. It has no grit. It has no harmful chemicals.

Which way will you choose?

PETE HERMAN'S safety-first boxing exhibition here against Joe Burman again recalls to mind the growing difficulty experienced by fight fans in getting a run for their $5 ringside—or whatever they happen to lay down.
Under present conditions it is impossible for promoters to be certain that the entertainment they plan will at all warrant the high prices charged for the show.
The reason the promoters cannot guarantee the character of the performance, even when they engage the highest possible brand of talent, is that they are unable to make certain that both contenders will put their best endeavors into the performance. In a majority of instances of main-event fighters from other cities, appearing before local clubs, a strong element of dissatisfaction has existed after the performance. Numerous instances might be cited; in all cases the offending principals have been highly paid. Back of it all are two causes: 1. No-decision contests. 2. Unwillingness of champions to eliminate their few rivals, or meat tickets.

"No-Decision" Breeds Stalls.
THE no-decision rule, wherever it prevails, is a breeder of stalling tactics and half-hearted exhibitions. It is the "out" for a champion or near-champion who wants to pick up a few thousands of dollars without taking a chance. It is the safe harbor for the manager, the ill-conditioned and the cheat.
No matter how poorly the titleholder or celebrity shows against the local "wonder," in "saving up his meat ticket" for a rainy day, the only penalty he incurs is criticism. In the record book it appears merely as "No decision."

"Saving Up" Contenders.
THE financial aspect of the game, for the smaller promoters, is a serious one. In each class there are only a few men of near-title class. If the champion cleans out these quickly there is no one left for him to fight and consequently his business falls flat as his bank account.

THREE TEAMS REMAIN IN DOUBLES EVENT OF COUNTY TENNIS PLAY
Play in the annual county tennis championship, being held at the Kirkwood Country Club this week has reached the semifinal round in the doubles. The singles, which was won by Ted Drewes, was completed on Labor day.

In the doubles event, the veteran team of Dempster, Goddard and Drummond-Jones, advanced to the semifinals by defeating Barnes and McCallum, in straight sets, 6-3, 8-6, 6-2. The team of Goddard and Jones was a result of their victory over Lynn and Waddock, which was closely fought. The score was 6-3, 4-3, 7-5.

Tomorrow afternoon Goddard and Jones will oppose Ted Drewes and Herb Bryant. The winner of this match will then face Metcalf and Harris in the final round on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Second round: Green and Gould defeated Dunaway and Schultz, 6-3, 6-2. Barnes and Metcalf defeated Green and Gould, 6-0, 8-6. Goddard and Jones defeated Barnes and McCallum, 6-3, 8-6. Drewes and Bryant defeated Wright and Booth, 6-3, 8-6.

Semifinal: Harris and Metcalf defeated Lynn and Waddock, 6-2, 6-3, 7-5.

O'DOWD AND LEWIS TO MEET IN EAST SEPT. 23
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Articles were signed here yesterday for a 12-round bout in Jersey City Sept. 23 between "Mike" O'Dowd, former middleweight champion of the world, and Ted (Kid) Lewis, welterweight champion of Europe. The fight will be a no-decision affair. The prize money guaranteed a purse of $15,000, which they will split by an agreement to be reached later. Both men will weigh in at 135 pounds ringside.

Hall Best Driver Seen in U. S., in Vardon's Opinion

By Harry Vardon.
(Copyright, 1924.)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 8.—Douglas Edgar of the Druid Hills Club, Atlanta, and Charles Hall, professional at the Country Club of Birmingham, fought Ted Ray and myself until the last hole here yesterday in a 36-hole, best-ball match; and on the final hole Hall, by a perfect second shot and a fine putt, succeeded in halving the match.
It should have been halved, for our opponents played well indeed. Charles Hall is one whose fame has not been spread over the world, but if he plays consistently as well as he did yesterday it is beyond my poor understanding why it has not been. He is the longest driver we have seen on this tour.
The match was played over two courses, 18 holes in the morning being over the course of Roebuck Country Club, and the second round being on the links of the Country Club of Birmingham. We ended the morning round 3 up and held an advantage until the last hole. It was a fine match and many interesting things occurred as successfully as we did. As one individual medal score would show, as one faltered the other rose to the occasion. I should say that Edgar played the nicer golf in the first round, but when Hall arrived at his own course he started out to do something national things, and it cannot be denied that he did it.

Bermuda Grass Greens O.K.
For the first time since we started we have come across greens of Bermuda grass. Our manager, W. C. Sherwood, has been assuring us for some time that greens of this quality are quite as good as others, and we have been arguing the question. I confess they are much better than we expected them to be. I should say that the greens are too resilient for good putting, but are very fine for pitch shots. If the other greens upon which we play during our Southern trip are as good as these I shall have no complaint.
The courses were quite all right. It was indeed a treat to gaze upon green fairways instead of parched and brown ones. The fairways here were good. We were pleased with both courses. The one upon which we played in the afternoon had very little shade. It was a very natural course.
Many fine recovery shots were made by those of both sides yesterday. To play well each one had to make good recovery shots. Heat and sun were terrific, perspiration was pouring and clubs were slipping in our hands. There was a deal of hookey and slicing. Every time we drove down a fairway bordered by spruce trees, Ted and I pulled his tee shot into the trees. I accuse him of seeking shade. He denies the accusation.

CALIGULA, 25 TO 1, WINS THE ST. LEGER STAKES
DONCASTER, England, Sept. 8.—The St. Leger stakes of £400, 7 furlongs, was won by an outsider, Caligula, owned by F. O. Gooding, quoted in this morning's betting at 25 to 1.
Sir Edward Hulton's Silvern was second and Lady James Douglas-Manton was third. Fourteen horses were started.

The favorite for the event was Spion Kop, the Derby winner, who was unplaced in the world and had lost the race for an entire colt and filly foaled in 1917, over the St. Leger course, of about one mile, six furlongs and 132 yards.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Open Letter to Gov. Cox.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
My Dear Governor: I am a Democrat. That is to say, I have been one for the last seven or eight years. Previous to that I was an independent, voting sometimes the Republican, sometimes the Democratic and once the Progressive ticket. But I have been a Democrat for the last seven or eight years because of what the Democratic administration was and did. I, and thousands like me, followed Mr. Wilson, just as we did Mr. Roosevelt, because in him, in his deeds and his ideals, we found a leader and a champion in the crusade for progress and humanity against reactionism and realpolitik.
When you were chosen the candidate of the Democratic party, we had a right to assume that you would continue to carry on. No matter by what fortuitous machinery your candidacy came about, you are now the chosen leader of Democracy's hosts. When you announced your intention of going up and down the country making the rounds of the campaign, we granted that you would, with one clear voice, justify your party's achievements to all the too-forgotten public and arouse the nation's conscience to the call of your party's idealism. We supposed that Mr. Cummings' keynote speech at San Francisco was really and truly the keynote of the Democratic campaign.
For years the Democratic party has been anticipating the opportunity to "show" the country and then to appeal to its record for vindication and confidence. For centuries a war-ridden world has looked forward to the day when it could put an end to war. Well, both these hours have arrived. The Democratic party has shown the country; it has made a magnificent record of achievement on which it may justly and proudly base a claim for renewed confidence. Out of this same Democratic party has come both the inspiration and the energy for ending the world's wars. Both these opportunities meet in your candidacy.
"Thousands of thousands wait," "Firm, rapid and afloat," to follow your inspired leadership from past achievement to the realization of this world's hope. And in the face of this unprecedented crisis you seem to choose to flitter away the time between this and November in partisan mud-slinging and scandal.
I cannot guess, of course, what considerations have influenced you to pursue this most extraordinary course—this throwing away of Greatheart's sword and taking the muck rake in its stead. Perhaps the assurance of a humble citizen against your political enemies, who for all their boasted shrewdness, are always a stupid lot, with a psychology of a piece with the German propagandist. If so, you would do well to break with them, and take counsel of your own heart.
I mix and talk with average folks, in office and home and on the street—more, perhaps, than you do, Governor. And you may take the assurance of a humble citizen against your political enemies, who for all their boasted shrewdness, are always a stupid lot, with a psychology of a piece with the German propagandist. If so, you would do well to break with them, and take counsel of your own heart.

Is It Fair?
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Does it sound fair, in these days of housing reform, that the cement companies of the city refuse to sell their product to any person, even though they furnish drainage themselves, for no other reason than that the drivers of the cement companies are on a strike?
The situation is tense enough as it is without adding what appears an unwarranted assumption to curtail the supply of material that is delaying in numbers of cases, housing facilities.
The striking drivers may or may not have a good case, but the action of the cement companies seems indefensible. But what is the public going to do about it?
FAIR PLAY.
Theory and Practice.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Is a family of seven children I was the only one having a chance to get a university education. I was under the impression that a university training would enable me to earn money to help my family. Now that I have gone to work I must start at the bottom; sweep floors, lift and do heavy work while those who learned a trade or started with me in grammar school and didn't even go to high school are university have the cleaner, better-paying positions. The very best years of my life were spent trying to learn while I might have been getting experience and savings. I have found that the theoretical ideas and formulae are not needed in business as much as good, practical common sense, business experience and energy.
ONE WHO HAS TRAVELED BOTH ROADS.

THE McCULLOCH ACQUITTAL

The decision of Judge Orin Patterson in the Greene County Criminal Court at Springfield yesterday afternoon, abruptly terminating a celebrated case, was like an unexpected blow in the face to the people of St. Louis. The Court sustained the demurrer of the defense attorneys. In consequence Richard McCulloch, president of the United Railways, was freed of the charge of burglary and larceny in connection with the seizure of the referendum petitions.
The Court held, as the arguments of the defense attorneys for the demurrer contended, that the referendum petitions were not property in the meaning of the statutes; that they possessed none of the statutory attributes of property; that lacking an "appreciable pecuniary value," they were not subjects of larceny. Wherefore, the indictment was voided, the case dismissed, the defendant freed.
The defendant, moreover, was not only freed of the present charge, but from any future prosecution in this connection. He had been placed in jeopardy, and, as the law provides, his security of person may not again be endangered by any court process on this charge. The referendum petitions case is closed, not only as against McCulloch, but, so it is informally construed, as against Bruce Cameron also, a former employee of the United Railways, who had been jointly indicted with McCulloch. The State is enjoined forever from taking an appeal.

But if the State may not appeal from this decision to another court of record, it is entirely permissible, by way of commentary, to appeal to the tribunal of public opinion for the purpose of arriving at a moral verdict. Nor is it presumptuous, in view of the known facts and circumstances and obvious motives, to interpret the judgment of public opinion.
The unlettered citizen and the most erudite jurist are agreed that a dreadful crime was perpetrated in St. Louis on the night of June 15, 1918. The seizure of the referendum petitions, by the stealth and violence of burglary, was an assault upon the rights of the citizens of St. Louis to pass upon a question of great pecuniary moment. Not only were those legally bestowed rights assailed, but an outrage was committed against public dignity. Though no statute was violated, the work done that night was, in truth, a rape of the majesty of the law. Before intricate legal reasoning and fine distinctions the public may bow a confused head. But there is no confusion about the fact that the public's instinctive sense of right was shocked inexorably at the arrogant contempt and defiance of the public's rights with which this attack had been executed. And it is disheartening, indeed, to witness technicality again providing shelter for men who engaged in a desperate enterprise—an enterprise that escapes the ban of criminality because of defective statutes.
The decision is lamentable from the public viewpoint. It is not unfair to believe that there are tears in the eyes of the blind goddess.

PRIMARY ELECTION CONTESTS

At Bolivar, in a case originating at Hartsville, Judge C. H. Skinker decides that no contest can be instituted under the primary law and no recount made of votes cast in a primary. The opportunity which the case presents for an appeal and final determination of the question should be improved. Certain provisions of the general election law are made applicable to primaries, and it has been contended that the provisions as to contests is one of them. A ruling from the Circuit bench does not definitely settle the matter, and as long as doubt exists on the subject an invitation is given crooked election officials, of whom St. Louis has more than a few, to tamper with primary results in the interest of favored candidates.
It is, of course, to be hoped that the Legislature, which meets in less than four months from now, will revise the act and clear up the point. However, that is a hope entertained on the eve of a session for several past years. Supporting the Legislature again fails to act? A decision on the extent to which the general law covers primary election details may be desirable for other reasons.

THE BENTON HARBOR CROWD

The significant feature of the Mike-Dempsey affair was contributed, not by the contestants, but by the crowd. The silk-shirted, silk-socked elegance that environs a classic of this description in our metropolitan centers did not strike the dominant note at Benton Harbor. It was a mere variant, almost a nuisance. The great majority of the onlookers who beheld the distinguished erstwhile pacifist in belligerent display were virile tillers of the soil. But that those farmers lacked the sartorial frills of the cosmopolites they toted bulging pocketbooks, from which the extraction of a $20 note occasioned no perceptible difficulty.
Persons with vindictive memories may intimate that the opulence of the Michigan farmers is of sinister origin. They will classify it as an unearned increment, acquired in that halcyon Michigan summer when Commodore Newberry sailed his craft through the treacherous straits of politics. But impartial economists of Democratic affiliation will dissent from that ugly construction. The Newberry flavor may still cling to many a bucolic Michigan roll, but the wealth of the farmers from the sandy peninsula is to be accounted for by the beneficence

INEFFICIENCY AND THE TON OF COAL

If the voluntary vacations taken by the coal miners seem blameworthy, with wintry weather only a few weeks away, what is to be said of the involuntary vacations they take all the year round?
Sanford E. Thompson, engineer, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., declares that if an industrial plant above ground should follow the methods that prevail in the mining of coal, it would speedily be faced by the alternative of failure or radical amendment of its management.
An article by him in a New York paper says:
Imagine, if you can, a factory which must shut down the entire plant and where every man must quit work for no pay, whenever the railroad fails to send freight cars; imagine a factory where the piece worker frequently has to loaf half a day waiting for the machine work that must be done before he can start his hand labor; imagine a factory with no method of planning distribution of the work or the moving of materials except as the foreman works it out in his head when the time comes for action. But these are everyday facts in the production of coal.
The average output of each miner in the soft coal fields is only 4.7 tons for each day's work, but the average for some single mines is as low as 1.8 tons. Operations at a typical mine during a typical week last winter were as follows: First day, eight hours; second day, no work; third day, eight hours; fourth day, no work; fifth day, six hours; sixth day, no work.
Mr. Thompson's description is only a little more specific and graphic than other descriptions of coal mining, which have had pointed discussion in the past. The plain fact is that coal mining is not efficient. A consequence of inefficiency is that the men are denied steady employment. Their annual earnings, though figured at a high rate per day, is confessedly insufficient. Unnecessary costs are added to coal, to which costs profiteers' percentages are in turn added. Periodic coal scarcity causes domestic hardship and cripples industry.
How to introduce efficiency into coal mining is something the whole public is interested in—more interested than in the efficiency of any other single industry. After trained investigators have collected and classified and weighed the facts, the task is set for our skilled engineers and efficiency experts. With strike boards and measures for stimulating production, we are dealing through mere makeshifts with matters of menacing import to America's future. It is time to attack the fundamental problem.

MY SEASON

I AM not of the early spring. Whose tenderness is proclaimed in young shoots. In furry buds in tasseled seedlings. I am not of the spring. My heart Doth not yield to the budding season. Nay, I am not of the summer's tide. So openly announced in garish color. Gilded splendor spreading poppies as painted Mummings splashing fields, and purpled this Spread upon the marshes. I am not Of the Summer openly announced. Nay, My heart is as a pool In the early autumn warm, yet Of the Summer's sun yet kissed Of frost about its lips upon it. Reflected russet bronzed of sun. Leaves like disks of brass flecked of scarlet. Grass that bends of weight and scratches; Skies that are gray, shuttled with a red sun; A moon veiled as a nun and stars That bugle like white labers At a holy shrine. Such am I.

PATIENCE WORTH

Dear Clark: Or perhaps I should say Mr. McAdams: But, anyway, Mac, while reading your Column last Sunday I came Across the contribution of A bird named J. K. W., who strongly Objects to recent criticisms Of amateur "widow-clams" on the part of Two thugs who, to quote J. K. W., "are hidden In the obscurity of their anonymity." He Even goes so far as to mention the names of The dastardly assassins, Idoux de Clare and Wellwell. Now I, being responsible for the Deeds of these two footpads, Feel bound in conscience To set them right before the dear public. In the first place, as Idoux de Clare and Wellwell, I wish to disclaim any Aspirations to the Vox Populi column. Of which the "initialed" mysterious man Accuses me. I am too humble to aspire to Such literary heights. As to the report That one of the male "Bachelor Girls" has Found a fertile field for his "Fickle Foolish-isms."—Well, we might state that we, too, know people Who have made "The Chestnut Tree" in The Everybodys magazine. What irritates Beneath our epidermis, though, is that With all his vaunted contempt for Anonymity, this bird, J. K. W., signs Merely his initials. Why not Complete the mystification, J. K. W., by Calling yourself Disgraced Reader or Pre-Ron Public? Why the "teaching Anonymity"? As for us, we believe in Anonymity in matters of this sort. Instead of flaunting our Warren Gamelle before the public. If J. K. W. wishes to have a Battle-royal with Idoux de Clare and Wellwell, he can have name by inquiring of Just A Minute the identity of AN ONYMOUS.

"And how much was raised for charity?" "Who, nearly $700. Wasn't that fine?"

PROFIT SHARING IN FRANCE

CHARLES CENTRE is the survey. PROFIT sharing is of French origin. The theory of Charles Robert and the practice of Leclaire created it. Godin, at Guise, as the disciple of Fourier, carried profit sharing to its extreme. During the latter part of the nineteenth century and the first quarter of the twentieth profit sharing has been put into force to a wider extent, but not as a general measure or a recognized constituent of industrial justice. To bring about a country-wide application of the institution, a change of mind among employers and a greater pressure on the part of labor had to make themselves felt. This was the outcome of the war. I do not mean to say that trade unions at large have rallied to the idea; they profess that nothing short of the expropriation of capital and the abolition of the wage system will satisfy them. But employers have come to look on profit sharing as a means to assuage the labor unrest and introduce one of those transition measures that may, in the long run, bring about greater welfare and more peaceful feelings. French workers, on the other hand, in spite of the revolutionaryism of the extremists and the realistic and sensible enough to be satisfied with an appreciable amelioration of their lot, and not to risk the downfall of the whole social fabric by overturning everything.

STAGE AND THE "MOVIES"

TOTIS SKINNER in the North American Review. Forced by a skillfully constructed play acted by players of conviction and artistic power, I have often watched an audience coming from a moving picture theater, and rarely have I seen a look of boredom on the faces of the audience. The crowd that would result from the perusal of a newspaper. Whereas, after an evening at an interesting play, the audience pours forth in animation; and even though the play may have been a comedy, the audience is still in a state of excitement until the reaction shows on every face. So long as the human relation is preserved between actor and audience, so long will the actor drama retain its supremacy in any community.

PARKS AND POWER RIGHTS

From the Nation. BUT, ominous as the irrigation situation is, the Federal power situation is even more so. The Federal power bill, which has knocked around Congress for 10 years or more, was revived again last winter. Senate and House disagreed and it passed into conference. A few days before adjournment the compromise bill emerged, was passed by both houses as a matter of form, and sent to the President for signature. This bill created a Federal Water Power Commission consisting of the Secretaries of War, Interior and Agriculture, with power to issue licenses for the building of dams, power houses, transmission lines and other structures "necessary or convenient" on all public lands and reservations. National parks and monuments were included by name. Again public-spirited associations discovered the danger at the last moment and soured the alarm. Telegrams poured in upon the President from coast to coast against the inclusion of the national parks. The President gave the bill a pocket veto, but, under pressure of thousands of telegrams from the West, at last signed it under an old precedent. The fate of the national parks passed from Congress for the first time in 48 years into the hands of three men. How do these men stand? Secretary Payne is the uncompromising defender of the national parks. Secretary Meredith is culpably indifferent to irrigation and power rights everywhere. Secretary Baker is noncommittal. The Federal water power act must be amended next winter so as to exclude national parks and monuments. It will be a fight to a finish, for the power crowd is a powerful crowd, and in deadly earnest to land the great prize so nearly in its grasp.

"I've seen many a young gentleman in through being a military man, and among what you might call 'swells,' never saw a young gentleman as could handle to my young master, Lionel, his 'The Captain's Youngest.' No, were fit to black his boots, for the most part. And I knew him, too, from the time that a young gentleman in long clothes carried about in his ayah's arms; and the time, too, that I've carried him myself, and I was proud to do it.
You see, I knew his father, Capt. Dalrymple, the fifty-seventh, in his best days, when he came out to India with his regiment; a fine young fellow, as was a favorite with me. After a while he married, and he and his wife were as pretty as you need see. By-and-by Miss Rose was born, and then the other children; and last of all, Miss Rose was about 8 years old, my own master.
When the family began to grow up the orders were back to England, and I came with them, you see. The Captain was as good as the family expenses got bigger and bigger, money got scarcer with him, I couldn't live as they did before, and so, I think it was because I liked the child especially my young master, I fell into being part valet, part waiter, part work for the Captain and his.
This wasn't all. The Captain's fine as was handsome still, and a gentleman, and no mistake—brought him fine friends, his friends brought him debt, because he was obliged to keep up with them. Every body managed, because Mrs. Dalrymple was a belle, as I said, and good for no better never, as to dress fine and look because Mrs. Dalrymple, as I said, knew about managing; so the servants ran were nothing but trouble and expense, and was nothing but struggling to keep up, as I said, to break down, from day to day.
The Captain is worse than ever. My lady would say, sometimes, when this and she had a crying fit on it, 'It is so expensive, and the other girls are up. I wish Lionel was older. He is the who seems to feel for me at all.'

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

THE NEW AMBITION.

Since Tommy read that Ruth was educated,
In a school where boys are sent when they are bad,
He no longer looks on college
As a place to gather knowledge.
And he's lost his high ambitions that he had.
Once he hoped to wear the laurels of the learned Perched upon his little freckle-frescoed brow,
And to gain a proud position
With his stock of erudition
But he's working with a different purpose now.

He has borrowed little Johnny Snithers' air gun
And has broken half the windows on the street;
With an utter lack of feeling
He has dropped banana peeling
Where it led astray a passing copper's feet.
He has cast adrift the brakes on automobiles,
And has laughed to see them coasting down the hill;
With molasses he's made messes
Of the blonde and curly tresses
That adorned his little baby sister Jill.

He's been reasoned with and scolded, even paddled,
But he never seems to do a bit of good.
When by chance his folks detect him,
In misconduct and correct him,
He declares he'd not be better if he could.
For his youthful thoughts are eternally dwelling
On the Home-Run Wonder's soul enthralling story,
And with law defying daring,
Little Tommy is preparing For admittance to the same reformatory!

ONE THING TO BE THANKFUL FOR.
Anyway, thanks to Mr. Ruth, there is no home run shortage this year.

NO WONDER.
Doubtless Padreowski quit Poland because there was so much discord
there.

Still Useful.

Mrs. A. had just finished cutting her five-year-old daughter's hair and was preparing to throw away the clippings when the youngster asked,
"Mother, what are you going to do with the hair you cut off my head?"
"Why, throw it away, of course," answered Mrs. A., a trifle impatiently.
"Why, what made you ask?"
"Oh, I thought maybe you would save it to patch father's with," returned the youngster. "It needs it bad enough."—Indianapolis News.

Would Have Been in Time.

The diner was not pleased with his soup. "What on earth is this broth made from, waiter?" he demanded. "It surely isn't chicken soup."
"Well, no sir," replied the waiter,
"not exactly, but it is chicken broth in its infancy, as it were. It is made out of the water the eggs were boiled in."

Campaigning Himself.

"Did you shake that man's hand?"
"No," said the candidate, "he beat me to it."
"Huh?"
"Insisted on shaking mine. He probably wants a job."—Louisville

Too Obvious.

Small Girl: Please, teacher, a

Between Friends.

Alice: I thought Mr. Smart had good literary taste until he sent me that stupid novel.
Kate: Oh, that doesn't necessarily indicate his taste, dear; it merely represents his opinion of yours.—

But Gets There.

The smug reformer was dilating upon the advantages of prohibition.
"People can no longer say they are driven to drink," he exclaimed.
"No, they now have to go by boat," growled the man with the impressionistic nose.—Town Topics.

Suspicious.

The head of the firm had secretly called in an expert accountant to check up the cashier. "Have you discovered any evidence of dishonesty?"
asked the expert accountant. "Well, I've noticed that he carries a different umbrella every time it rains," explained the head of the firm.

WIDOW FOUND BULLET ON
PURSE 75MOVING FIRMS
GRANT INCREASE
TO EMPLOYEESStrike of 356 Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Packers, on Since Sept. 1, Settled and Men Resume Work.

The furniture moving industry which was halted Sept. 1 by a strike of the 365 union teamsters employed by the 200 moving and storage companies belonging to the St. Louis Furniture Movers' Association and the Mutual Movers' Association, was resumed at 6 o'clock this morning when the strikers returned to work at increased wages and under a new schedule of overtime work.

A contract signed yesterday by the officers of the two associations and the officials of the union specified that chauffeurs, drivers and packers who formerly received $29.70 a week, shall receive $37 a week, and helpers formerly getting $24.40 a week, shall receive $32 a week. The new will continue to work on a nine-hour day basis. The contract will run for a year.

It was further agreed that the employees shall have half holiday on Saturdays and shall receive double time for work on holidays and Sundays. Night work also will be paid for on a double-time basis.
The settlement was a compromise of the larger moving and storage companies, said that a large number of orders had accumulated and that would take at least a week, including night work, to catch up. He said there is more moving this year, due to people purchasing homes on account of high rents, than there has been in the past 20 years.

Thomas J. Coyne, secretary of the Furniture Movers' Association, said the union, said that the men were satisfied with the terms of settlement.

STATE PENITENTIARY REJECTS WOMAN PRISONER WITH BABY

Federal Convict From Wisconsin Refused Admission When She Arrives With Young Child.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 7.—
Mrs. Margaret Barrington, convict in a Federal Court in Wisconsin having used the mails to defraud and sentenced to nine years in prison, was refused admission to the Missouri State penitentiary here today because she had a months-old baby with her.

Federal women convicts are sent to the Missouri penitentiary to serve out sentences.

Under the Federal commitment, Mrs. Barrington was to take a baby to prison and keep it for months, after which the baby was to be in the custody of the father for six months. It was to alternate six-month periods between mother and father until the expiration of Mrs. Barrington's sentence.

The Missouri law, however, does not permit the incarceration of children in the State prison. Attorney General McAllister declared there was nothing in the agreement between the State and the Federal Government regarding the care of Federal women prisoners which gave the Federal authorities a right to infringe upon the statute.

The United States Deputy Marshal was directed to return to Wisconsin with his prisoner and inform Federal Court that the baby could not be admitted to the Missouri prison. He left today with Barrington and the baby.

WOOL CLOTH CUT 20 PER CENT

Price Reduction Less Than Expected. Due to Little Demand.
NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—An approximate cut of 20 per cent in cloth prices by the American Wool Co. was noted at the company's opening of its fall exhibit here today, according to the Textile Journal.

The cut, said to be less than anticipated by the trade, was attributed to the fact that there has been little demand for woolen goods.
